Dear friends and customers,

I am pleased to present my new catalogue. Most of my book stock contains many rare and seldom offered items. I hope you will find something of interest in this catalogue, otherwise I am in the position to search any book you find difficult to obtain. Please send me your want list. I am always interested in buying books, journals or even whole libraries on all fields of science (zoology, botany, geology, medicine, archaeology, physics etc.). Please offer me your duplicates.

Terms of sale and delivery:

We accept orders by mail, telephone or e-mail. All items are offered subject to prior sale. Please do not forget to mention the unique item number when ordering books. Prices are in Euro. Postage, handling and bank costs are charged extra. Books are sent by surface mail (unless we are instructed otherwise) upon receipt of payment. Confirmed orders are reserved for 30 days. If payment is not received within that period, we are in liberty to sell those items to other customers. Return policy: Books may be returned within 14 days, provided we are notified in advance and that the books are well packed and still in good condition.

The first volume of this three volume work appeared in 1803 and was reprinted (with a different title-page) in 1805.
It deals with Palaeontology only, while the other two volumes deal with Mineralogy (1809) and Vulcanology (1809). It seems to be one of De Saint-Fond's rarer works as it is seldom offered for sale.
So we offer the complete plaeontology section of this work, in which chapters are found on fossil shells (3 pls), fossil fishes (4), fossil "crocodiles" = Mosasaurus (1 plate), fossil and recent rhynoceros (3 pls), fossil and recent elephants (4 pls), unknown fossils = giant sloth from South America (1 plate), fossil oxes (1 plate), and fossil wood.

Memoria sulla struttura geologica delle Alpi degli Apennini e dei Carpazi. Diretta specialmente a provare un passaggio dalle rocce secondarie all' terziarie e lo sviluppo dei dipositi eocenici nell'Europa Meridionale. Traduzione dall'Inglese ed appendice sulla Toscana. Firenze; xxxv, 528 p., 40 text engravings, two large, folded leafs with profiles, two large, folded tables, Large 8vo (23.2 x 15.5 cm). Later marbled boards, original printed front wrapper mounted on the front board.
Rare expanded translation of an influential work by the Scottish geologist Roderick Impey Murchison (1792-1871), with a large addition dealing with the Italian mountains and in particular the Toscane region, written by his Italian colleagues Paolo Savi (1798-1871) and Guiseppe Menegheni (1811-1889). In the rear is a large section on the fossils of the Toscane region, including the descriptions of new species of ammonites, belemnites, and foraminifers (nummulites). Uncut. Some light, scattered spotting in the text, otherwise a very good, clean copy. Ward & Carozzi, 1625 [the much shorter original, German edition]

Eugène Dubois earned worldwide fame through his discovery of Pithecanthropus erectus (now Homo erectus), the upright, ape-man of Java. The Selenka-Trinil Expedition of 1907-08 tried to verify Dubois' results. The here offered report report of 342 pages was the result of this expedition. Despite the excellent scientific work produced in this report, few ever heard of it, and it suffered the fate of being condemned to oblivion because it produced evidence contrary to evolution. Although the purpose of the expedition was to confirm Dubois's findings, its findings contradicted his claims.

Otto Haas (1887-1976) was an Austrian born palaeontologist who worked in the US during the second world war and after. He specialized in mesozoic molluscs (mainly Ammonites). When he got this book from his grandfather he was 18 years old, and apparently already attracted to palaeontology. Three years later (1908) he wrote his first paper on a Jurassic Cephalopod. And in 1913 got his degree from the University in Vienna (Wien).
